GETTING STARTED

Sometimes starting can be the hardest part, so we are here to give you some tips to help you succeed from the start. With a bit of planning and preparation, you will be on your way to running a successful lemonade stand in no time.

What Materials do I need?

Your Lemonade Stand Kit includes some of the essentials to get started. However, you may still need a few additional items to set up your stand completely, such as:

Ice

Cups

Table

Chair

Where should I have my lemonade stand?

Pick a location that is safe, visible, and has a good amount of foot traffic. Some ideal places include:

- Your front yard or driveway
- A nearby park or playground
- Outside a local community event

Make sure to get permission if you plan to set up outside your property, and always have an adult present.

When do I want to have my lemonade stand?

Choose a fun day and time to set up your lemonade stand! Think about things like:

- Sunny days with no rain
- Times when lots of people are outside
- When you and your family have free time

Weekends and after school are usually awesome times to sell lemonade and have tons of fun!

GET READY TO SELL SOME LEMONADES!

Prepare your lemonade by following the recipe included in your kit. Make sure you have enough lemonade to meet demand and keep extra ingredients on hand for refills. Set up your table, and make sure you have everything ready:

- Plenty of change in your money box
- A comfortable chair
- Sunscreen, hats, or umbrellas for shade
- Hand sanitizer or wet wipes
- A notebook for tracking sales and expenses

Price your lemonade for each cup, typically between $0.50 and $1.00. Display the price clearly on your stand.

Promote your lemonade stand through flyers, social media, and word of mouth to friends, neighbors, and family.

Practice customer service with your child to practice greeting customers, making sales, and handling money, emphasizing politeness and friendliness.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR PROFIT

Now that you've kicked off your lemonade stand adventure, it's time to dive into the money side of things! Let's start by understanding how to track your sales and expenses.

Keeping accurate records will help you analyze the success of your lemonade stand and make decisions.

Sales: Write down how much money you earned from selling lemonade. This is the total amount of money you made.

Expenses: List all the things you spent money on to run your lemonade stand. This includes things like lemonade mix, cups, and any other costs.

Net Profit: is a fancy word for saying how much money you earned after paying for everything you needed to run your lemonade stand. To find out your net profit, subtract your total expenses from your total sales.

$$\text{SALES} - \text{EXPENSES} = \text{NET PROFIT}$$

Tracking your sales and expenses is a great way to see how well your lemonade stand is doing and helps you learn about money management.

SALES AND EXPENSES WORKSHEET

Now that you've started your lemonade stand journey, let's keep track of your sales and expenses! Fill in the details below to understand how much you're making and spending.

Example

Date: June 20, 2024

Sales: $55.00

Expenses:

Item	Total Cost
Ice	$2.00
Cups	$8.00
Straws	$5.00
Total Expenses:	$15.00

Net Profit: $40.00

$$\begin{array}{r} $55.00 \text{ Sales} \\ - $15.00 \text{ Expenses} \\ \hline $40.00 \text{ Net Profit} \end{array}$$

Tip: Write down your goal for how much money you want to earn from your lemonade stand. This will help you stay motivated and focused. To reach your goal, use the provided sales tracker to keep track of how many cups of lemonade you need to sell. Good luck!
